and Policy

FOCAL AREAS

Students gain in-depth experience through course work and research practice in their choice of one of three focal areas: Health Economics, Health Policy, or Health Management and Organization.

COLLABORATIVE & INTERDISCIPLINARY

Students benefit from the enthusiastic research collaboration of our faculty members with leading scholars across several fields including Economics, Policy, Management, Medicine, Dentistry, Pharmacy, and Nursing both at the University of Iowa and elsewhere.

FINANCIAL SUPPORT

Our program offers numerous graduate research and teaching assistantships that provide financial support and tuition waivers for our doctoral students. Additional student support is available from the University of Iowa on a competitive basis through various fellowships.

APPLICATION PROCESS

Students applying for fall 2022 are encouraged to apply by January 15, 2022 for funding consideration.

To apply visit:

www.public-health.uiowa.edu/hmp-phd

DIVERSE PERSPECTIVES

The Department of Health Management and Policy and the PhD in Health Services and Policy Program welcome and celebrate diverse identities, backgrounds, and experiences. A diverse, equitable, and inclusive workforce strengthens healthcare teams and improves healthcare services for the nation's population. Additionally, understanding diverse perspectives essential to ethical research. We are committed to facilitating and supporting an atmosphere rich in cultural perspectives. Since 2015, the PhD Program has included students from nine countries, five U.S. states, and who have earned degrees from 39 undergraduate and graduate institutions.

BUILD RESEARCH COMPETENCIES FROM DAY ONE

Recognizing the importance of their immersion in research from day one, our students are immediately paired with individual primary advisors and a faculty mentorship team who provide apprentice-style opportunities in all aspects of the research process. This includes students participating as partners in the publication process. In fact, most of our students have been the lead authors of articles published in top journals in health services research and related disciplines.

FACULTY EXCELLENCE

Our faculty lead a portfolio of high quality, high impact, and frequently interdisciplinary research projects. In 2020 our faculty had total research funding of $15.1 million. Among the many projects are studies of best practices to improve hospital quality and efficiency, evaluations of recent changes introduced by health care reform, telehealth, studies integrating social science and genetic data and designs to understand causal effects of behaviors on health and healthcare utilization, evaluations of innovations in health service delivery and payment, and studies focused on health and safety needs of elderly, including pain management and skilled nursing care. Our faculty publish in top health services research journals such as Health Services Research, Medical Care, Health Affairs, The Gerontological Society of America Journal and the American Journal of Public Health, and in leading journals in related fields including economics, policy studies, organization and management, and gerontology.

MISSION:

To prepare students to be at the cutting-edge of health services research, and to provide the basic and applied research necessary to facilitate the optimal configuration of health services and their delivery through evidence based, socially-just health policies.

VISION:

The Ph.D. Program will be recognized as a strong and consistent source of exceptional health services researchers and policy analysts by our national peers, our alumni, and prospective employers.

Rutgers Center for State Health Policy

Rutgers Center for State Health Policy, an initiative within the Institute for Health, Health Care Policy and Aging Research, was established in 1999 with funding from the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation and a mission to inform, support, and stimulate sound and creative state health policy in New Jersey and around the nation. The Center provides impartial policy analysis, research, training, facilitation, and consultation on important state health policy issues.

Research Focus | The Center combines Rutgers University's traditional academic strengths in public health, health services research, and social science with applied research and policy analysis initiatives. The Center's signature areas of research include:

- Population Health and Health Equity
- Access and Coverage
- Health System Performance Improvement
- Health Workforce
- Long-Term Services and Supports

Examples of Current Work | The Center's work is supported by grants and contracts from a broad array of federal and state agencies as well as health care philanthropies and private organizations. Our diverse funding portfolio includes:

- Implementation of the Integrated Population Health Data (iPHD) Project (New Jersey Department of Health)
- Evaluation of the New Jersey FamilyCare Comprehensive Demonstration (New Jersey Department of Human Services, Division of Medical Assistance and Health Services)
- The Impact of COVID-19-Related School Closures on Children's Weight Status (National Institute of Child Health and Human Development R01)
- The New Jersey Population Health Cohort Study (Robert Wood Johnson Foundation)
- Evaluation of the COVID-19 Emergency Reciprocity Licensure Program in New Jersey (Robert Wood Johnson Foundation)

Rural Health Research Gateway

ruralhealthresearch.org

The Rural Health Research Gateway is a free, online library of research and expertise. The website provides access to the work of the Rural Health Research Centers and Analysis Initiatives funded by the Federal Office of Rural Health Policy, Health Resources and Services Administration.

The Rural Health Research Center program is the only federal program that is dedicated entirely to producing policy-relevant research on health care in rural areas. The Centers study critical issues facing rural communities in an effort to secure adequate, affordable, high-quality health services for people living in rural areas.

MAYO CLINIC ROBERT D. AND PATRICIA E. KERN

CENTER FOR THE SCIENCE OF HEALTH CARE DELIVERY

TRANSFORMING THE EXPERIENCE OF HEALTH AND HEALTH CARE

The Mayo Clinic Robert D. and Patricia E. Kern Center for the Science of Health Care Delivery brings together unique capabilities, combining design methods, knowledge management, informatics, data science, analytics, health care delivery research, implementation science and health care engineering to solve challenges for patients, providers and the health care system at large. The center's goal is to provide evidence-based health care delivery solutions to improve practice outcomes.

Through developing, analyzing and rapidly diffusing solutions for the transformation of health care, the Kern Center drives the transformation of the Mayo Clinic practice to achieve high-value patient-centered care and serve as a global leader in the discovery, translation and application of innovative solutions.

Plan to attend the Mayo Clinic sponsored special session during ARM 2021:
"Application of AI to medicine: A journey from data science, to clinical trials, to everyday practice" on Tuesday, June 15, from 11 a.m. - 12:00 p.m. ET.

WE'RE IN THIS TOGETHER.

At Kaiser Permanente, we don't see health as an industry. We see it as a cause. And one that we very much believe in. During this extraordinary time we are especially thankful to the heroism of our frontline workers. And, we would like to express our deepest gratitude to all of our outstanding care teams and individuals who deliver on the Kaiser Permanente mission each day to improve the health of our members and the communities we serve. We are here to help you thrive. Learn more at kp.org.

Delivery Science Fellowship Program

About Us

The Division of Research, Kaiser Permanente Northern California, offers post-doctoral research fellowship programs to train fellows in translating research into practice. We seek outstanding candidates with health professional doctorate degrees (e.g. MD, PharmD or equivalent) and/or research doctorate degrees (e.g. PhD, ScD, DrPH or equivalent).

The Kaiser Permanente Northern California Division of Research, based in Oakland, California, has 60 faculty-level investigators and more than 526 ongoing, funded projects on a wide range of health research topics. In 2020, the Division's research portfolio totaled over $125 million in grants awarded by the NIH, other federal agencies, private foundations, industry, and Kaiser Permanente. Applications are due November 15, 2021, for the July 2022 cohort. Candidate interviews will be scheduled for December 2021.

Delivery Science Fellowship (two year, full-time program)

Fellows work closely with research and career mentors who partner directly with Kaiser Permanente physicians and clinical operations leaders to develop, implement, and evaluate innovative research and quality improvement projects for patient care, in one of the nation's leading integrated delivery systems. Clinical Informatics Track also available.

T32 Diabetes Translation Research Fellowship (one- to two-year, full-time program)

This fellowship focuses specifically on delivery science for diabetes and pre-diabetes. Research is conducted in collaboration with research faculty from the Health Delivery Systems Center for Diabetes Translational Research, the UC San Francisco School of Medicine, and the UC Berkeley School of Public Health, with funding from the National Institute of Diabetes and Digestive and Kidney Diseases (NIDDK).

AGENCY FOR HEALTHCARE RESEARCH AND QUALITY

Healthcare Cost and Utilization Project

Powerful Data. Meaningful Answers.

The Healthcare Cost and Utilization Project (HCUP) is a family of healthcare databases and related software tools and products developed through a Federal-State-Industry partnership and sponsored by the Agency for Healthcare Research and Quality (AHRQ).

HCUP databases bring together the data collection efforts of HCUP Partners to create the largest collection of longitudinal hospital care data in the United States, with all-payer, encounter-level information, enabling research on a broad range of health policy issues.

- On June 16th at 12:15pm EST, join us as we present an Overview of HCUP and announce the winners of the AHRQ and AcademyHealth Outstanding Article of the Year Award. The honor recognizes those that published in peer-reviewed journals in 2020 using HCUP data.
- On June 17th at 2:30pm EST, join us as we highlight the power of the Nationwide Emergency Department Sample (NEDS), the largest all-payer emergency department (ED) database in the US, yielding national estimates of ED visits. Two use cases demonstrate how to work with the NEDS including variation in ED utilization for injuries by type of trauma center and fluctuations over time in ED visits for seasonal illness. In addition, learn about HCUP online resources to examine hospital trends related to COVID-19.
